

Motivation Letter

Prof. Marija Vavlukis, MD, PhD, FESC

To the Election Committee of the European Society of Cardiology,

It is with great commitment and sense of responsibility that I submit my candidacy for the position of Audit Committee Member, representing the National Cardiac Societies. My professional career, spanning over three decades, has been dedicated to advancing cardiovascular medicine, strengthening academic excellence, and ensuring transparent governance in both national and international contexts.

As Vice Dean for Science at the Faculty of Medicine, Ss. Cyril and Methodius University in Skopje, and Head of Department of Internal Medicine, and Department of Nuclear Cardiology, as well Coronary Care Unit at the University Clinic of Cardiology, I have consistently combined clinical expertise with academic leadership. My roles as Head of Intensive Cardiac Care and Head of Internal Medicine have required not only scientific rigor but also accountability in resource management, curriculum oversight, and institutional governance. These experiences have prepared me to contribute effectively to the ESC Audit Committee, where integrity and transparency are paramount.

My longstanding involvement with the European Society of Cardiology—as Fellow of the ESC, Nucleus Member of the Working Group on Coronary Pathophysiology and Microcirculation, and National Representative in the Association for Acute Cardiovascular Care—has given me deep insight into the Society's governance structures and the importance of representing the diverse voices of National Cardiac Societies. I have actively contributed to ESC position papers, multinational registries, and collaborative research, ensuring that scientific excellence is matched by inclusivity and fairness.

With more than 245 scientific works, 170 peer-reviewed publications, and editorial responsibilities across leading cardiovascular journals, I bring a proven record of academic credibility. Equally important, my governance experience demonstrates a commitment to oversight, accountability, and ethical standards—qualities essential for the Audit Committee.

I believe that the Audit Committee plays a crucial role in safeguarding the ESC's credibility by ensuring financial transparency, compliance, and trust. Representing the National Cardiac Societies, I will work to strengthen the link between local associations and the ESC, ensuring that their perspectives are integrated into governance decisions. My vision is to uphold the highest standards of accountability while fostering collaboration across Europe's cardiovascular community.

I would be honored to serve in this capacity and contribute to the continued excellence and integrity of the European Society of Cardiology.

Respectfully,

Prof. Marija Vavlukis, MD, PhD, FESC

Vice Dean for Science, Faculty of Medicine, Ss. Cyril and Methodius University, Skopje
Head of Nuclear Cardiology, University Clinic of Cardiology, Skopje