

Fellow of the ESC (FESC) Application Guidelines

How to use the FESC application guidelines

These guidelines provide all required instructions and templates to help you prepare a complete and compliant FESC application.

Please read each section carefully, follow the templates provided, and ensure your documents – especially your publication list – meet the formatting and eligibility requirements.

Once complete, upload everything through your My ESC Account before the deadline.

We appreciate your cooperation in this matter and look forward to receiving your FESC application. Deadline: 30 September.

If you have any questions, please contact us.

Publications List

Important note: publication lists not meeting these specified requirements will not be accepted.

- We kindly request your attention on listing the publications according to standardised formats, e.g. the AMA reference style: <https://www.scribbr.com/ama/ama-reference-page/> , and underline your own name in each reference. Furthermore, please provide only primary research publications from peer-reviewed journals. Publications must be referenced in PubMed, Scopus, or Web of Science.
- Documents not accepted: case-reports, editorials, letters-to-editors, abstracts, or reviews. Please do not include these documents in the list. Note: systematic reviews are not accepted but meta-analyses are.

Please reformat your list following these guidelines:

- ✓ Present publications in chronological order (most recent first)
- ✓ Include complete references (authors, title, year, journal, volume, pages)
- ✓ Highlight your name by writing it in bold and underlined in each reference
- ✓ Each publication should begin with the authors' name, followed by the title, year and reference.

For example:

Doe J., Smith A., Brown B.

Title of the article. Journal Name. 2022, 15(3): 123-130.
